Fifteenth Annual Report

OF THE

Trustees of Amherst Town Library.

The trustees, in submitting this annual report, are reminded anew of the changes which the year has brought. Within the past twelve months, we have met with great losses in the decease of our beloved President, the late Dr. Davis, and our faithful librarian, Mrs. E. M. Burnham. Associated with them, as we have been, in the management of the library, we fully realize the great loss the institution has sustained.

The trustees met at the library rooms on Apr. 10, '94 and re-organized by the choice of Rev. A. J. McGown, as president, and Mrs. W. D. Clark as secretary and treasurer.

With the increased appropriation of last March, we have been enabled to carry out some suggestions made in our report of one year ago. A new supplement has been prepared and printed, and bound under one cover, with previous supplements, making a complete and comprehensive list of books now on our shelves. This has had a wholesome effect, and somewhat stimulated the use of the library by the public. This catalogue will answer for several years by which time a new classification and arrangement of books will be necessary and a complete catalogue desirable. It is the belief of the trustees that at no distant day, an adoption of the improved methods of cataloguing and classification of books now so universally in use by the best libraries, will be productive of good results here.

During the year there have been 101 new books added to the shelves. Your trustees have endeavored to use wisdom in the selection of these books, and have purchased only such as have appeared to them of permanent value. It is now, and has been, the aim of the trustees to build up a library that shall not decrease in worth from year to year, but rather increase in value and usefulness, as the public become more and more familiar with it. Statistics prove that the life of an average novel is less than a year; this being so, it has appeared to us undesirable, with the limited patronage at present, to purchase much of the lighter fiction, which so soon becomes but a burden on our shelves. We are more and more impressed with the good judgment of our predecessors in the selection of books, and we are pleased to find so many standard works, whose value and usefulness will continue for all time.

The library itself is in good condition. The plan adopted in years previous of repairing and binding such books as are worn from constant use and handling, will be continued, and the amount now remaining in our treasury, will be nearly all required for this purpose. The building is in perfect repair as far as we know, and no expenditures for repairs are anticipated for another year.

From the proceeds of the sale of the two donations of books made the library by Dea. E. D. Boylston, the furnishing of the reading room will be completed.

In connection with the reading room and its completion, your trustees would suggest the desirability of encouraging a collection of articles of historic value and significance as pertaining to Amherst and its history. This commodious room offers a very desirable and safe receptacle for such a collection.

On the decease of Mrs. Burnham, early in January, we were fortunate in being able to call to our assistance a former trustee to act as librarian, and the familiarity of Miss Stearns with the library, has relieved the trustees of what would otherwise have been a serious problem.

The freedom the public has shown in making their wants known through the book kept for the purpose on the library table, has aided the trustees materially in the selection of books, and we would encourage a still more liberal use of this book that a yet fuller co operation may exist between the patrons and the trustees. Suggestions and recommendations are cheerfully welcomed.

The total issue of books for the year has been 2,629, among 95 families. During the year 98 volumes have been added to the library by purchase, and three by donation as follows :

Papers for Thoughtful Girls,	}	Mrs. J. G. Davis.
